

POLY AWAITS GATER TREK FOR GAME

Program Includes Pep Parade From Train & Water Polo Game

Horse drawn hay-wagons, to be preceded by the combined State 60 piece and the Cal Poly 50 piece bands are now being put in order for a parade about the buildings on the Cal Poly campus on the arrival of the excursion this Saturday afternoon.

Anxiously awaited by the entire student body of Cal Poly, the San Francisco State College excursion is being hailed on the San Luis Obispo campus as the outstanding event of the year for the southern college.

PLANS COMPLETED

Plans are now complete for the program for the day. The special train will be met at 2:40 by the entire student body, the Cal Poly band, the Cal Poly rally committee in new sweaters, purchased expressly for greeting Staters, and various dignitaries from the city of San Luis Obispo.

The train will stop on the side-rail next to the campus, and excursionists will be met by Johnny Carriaburu who will welcome the crowd and outline the events for the day.

Beginning with the parade about the campus in the horse-drawn hay-wagons, the excursionists will visit the Crandall gym, where a number of signs have been posted to direct our visitors to various spots of interest around the campus. From the gym the hay-ride will take the Staters through the grounds, around the buildings, and to the swimming

High School Forensic Tournament Planned

High school forensic squads from all points in the eleven Western States and British Columbia are being contacted now by Henry Bartels, debate manager, for the semi-annual State High School Forensic tournament, November 24 and 25.

"We expect well over 250 high school debaters to attend this tournament," stated Bartels, "the last one we gave having brought an attendance of over 150, and every coach and judge attending left us with glowing commendations for the efficient manner in which the tourney was planned and run off. Our enrollment of debaters at each succeeding tournament has been almost double the earlier one, and this year we expect to easily surpass last year, when we had over forty debates going on at once all day."

The first day of the tourney will be devoted to extemporaneous speaking and oratory, and the second will see the debate rounds run off.

New Post Box Assignments

New assignments of postboxes for the students who at the beginning of the term did not receive any, have been announced by the Registrar's office today and are posted on the official bulletin board in College hall.

There is still a shortage of boxes which will be remedied soon.

CHICKEN'S BALL HEADS ISSUE ULTIMATUM

First Organizations To Be Previewed Will Be Chosen Contestants

Final warning was given today to clubs competing in the Chicken's Ball that all acts must be previewed before November 1. Those previewed and accepted will be officially listed as contestants.

There will be about fifteen acts in the show, which vary from large spectacles using over fifty persons, to instrumental solos.

Largeness of the act does not necessarily guarantee victory. Chairman Erwin Bischoff said, as a Piano Ensemble using only two persons won first place the last time.

Phi Lambda Chi is working on a "Floradora Revue" and Le Cercle Francaise is rehearsing a play. Delta Sigma's contribution will consist of a parody on pre-earthquake San Francisco politics.

Newman Club, which is sponsoring one of the largest acts, is a novel one involving off-stage repartee.

Meanwhile Newman Club and Sigma Pi Sigma were leading the race for the ticket selling trophy, although many other organizations may pass them before November 12. Organizations who have not yet secured their tickets may get them from Lonise Vallarino, ticket chairman.

State Rates High In Collegiate Chemistry Tests

State students rated very high in comparison with students of 157 other colleges in the United States in the test given to the Chemistry 12A-B class last semester, it was revealed today by Dr. Stanley W. Morse of the physical science department.

Statistics of the test which was given to 8,705 college students, 40 of whom were from State, have been compiled by the Cooperative Test Service of the American Council of Education, he said. The mean for San Francisco State students was consistently above that of students of all other colleges in all three parts of the test. Of those taking the test here, 25% were above the 88th percentile; 50% were above the 73 percentile, and 75% were in the upper half.

The test was prepared jointly by the Cooperative Test service and the American Chemistry society.

Dr. Morse was in charge of the lecture work and Dr. Robert Rowe of the laboratory work in Chemistry 12A-B during the year.

Noon Dance Band

Instead of the usual records, an orchestra was featured at the noon day dance sponsored by the Sigma Phi Sigma last Wednesday. Because of its success the rest of the dances will follow the same pattern, according to Joe Edelstein, member of the dance committee.

A dance contest is being featured at the noon dances, and at the end of the term a trophy will be awarded the winning couple.

ANNUAL PLAY FESTIVAL HELD AT EXPOSITION

State Gives 'Murray Hill' As Humboldt Presents 'Our Town'

Howard Comedy Will Be S.F. Portion of Duo-College Shows

Rehearsals have been completed and College Theater players are in readiness for the opening performance of the farce-comedy, "Murray Hill or Miss Tweedles Gets Married," to be presented at 3 p.m. and 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Federal theater on Treasure Island.

"Murray Hill" is a clever mixture of the gravely aristocratic mid-Victorian and the modern freedoms, set to lines which are the essence of sophistication. Its theme is woven about two middle-aged spinsters and their 26-year-old niece who is being trained for the spinsterhood under their direction. Into this sombre atmosphere intrude two young men, and the play ends with harum-scarum midnight escapades in the smug household of the spinster family.

"PLAY FESTIVAL"

Leslies Howard's three-act comedy to be given by the College theater under the supervision of Jessie D. Casebolt, will open the semi-annual "Play Festival" held in conjunction with Humboldt State. "Our Town" will be presented Thursday evening by the Humboldt theater players under the direction of Bill Hoppe.

The "Murray Hill" cast includes Wallace Twitchell in the part of Vane; Dorothy Fitzpatrick as Mrs. Cass; Louise Winter, May Tweedle; Jeanne Kerwin, Elizabeth Tweedle; Hallock Wagner, George Appleway; Martha Wilson, Amelia Tweedle; George Archambeault as Worthington Smythe, and Herb Smith in the part of Wrigley.

Admission to the plays on Treasure Island will be free with student body cards. The performances of "Murray Hill" on the campus will be held on November 2 and 9.

Poetry Club Meets At Witt-Diamant's

"Everyone interested in the writing of poetry should attend the poetry workshop group."

This announcement was made today by Mrs. Ruth Witt-Diamant, concerning the meeting of the poetry group to be held at her home, 44 Mendoza avenue, Friday, October 28.

Original poems by those in the group or of those planning to join, should be sent to Mrs. Witt-Diamant before next Friday.

Bock Entertains

Miss Bock, chairman of the English department entertained the staff at a dinner October 12, given to welcome the new members of the faculty, Dr. Hinkle and Mr. and Mrs. Simonson.

The entire English department was present, and after dinner they were entertained by parlor tricks.

DEBATERS MEET CAL ON EMBARGO

Neutrality Issue Selected Theme For Argument

Mincing words with the varsity debate squad from the University of California, Arnold Vezzani and Bob Sigerson are traveling to Berkeley tonight to uphold the laurels of San Francisco State forensics.

The question will be on the neutrality legislation now pending before Congress, with State taking the negative side, upholding the plan submitted by President Roosevelt. The Bears will take the affirmative side, the new laws planned by one bloc of Congress.

STANFORD DEBATE

This match with Cal marks the entrance of the Golden Tide Forensic artists' entrance into big-time competition this semester.

The second major debate of the year will be on October 26 at Stanford, when Tex Sigerson and old-timer Erwin Bischoff travel to Palo Alto to uphold the negative of the Pi Kappa Delta question for the year: "Resolved: That the United States should maintain a policy of strict economic and military isolation with any nation outside of the Western Hemisphere engaged in international or civil warfare."

WOMEN ENTERTAIN

The same P.K.D. question will be argued out from the rostrum of the University of California on October 31, when Arnold Vezzani, varsity debater and frosh debate coach, and Henry Bartels, debate manager, meet the Cal Women's team. After the verbal strife, the Staters will be entertained by the opposing forces.

The same date will see old-timer Bish Bischoff and an equally old-timer Shirley Senk travel to College of Pacific in Stockton to match words on the Pi Kappa Delta question. The traveling teams always assume the negative side.

Women Sponsor Halloween Party At Sigmund Stern

A Halloween party sponsored by A.W.S. is to be held Friday, October 28, from 4:30 to 7:30, at Sigmund Stern Grove.

Co-chairmen Ben Lavezzo and Rae Kaplan promised an evening of top-notch entertainment. Among performers are: singers Barara Sullivan, Mary Jane Brennstul, Sylvia Gutherz, Myrtle Burgess, and Corinne Ketterlin, and dancers Anita Pakele, Rose Kohr, and Marge Greer.

There will be a monologue by Dottie Threndson and a piano solo by Muriel Nammel. Kappa Delta Tau has promised a surprise skit. Besides this, there will be games and free eats for all.

All women students are asked to sign up on the A.W.S. bulletin board as soon as possible since the attendance is limited to 125 students.

Street car lines 12, 17, and K pass near 19th avenue and Sloat boulevard, location of Sigmund Stern Grove.

Chaser Sales Soar; Sellout In First Day

Sales of the Chaser, News Guild campus humor magazine, hit a new peak today with the announcement by Jim Martin, editor, that all copies were sold the first day of sale.

Only 1,000 copies were printed. Clubs and organizations called for 300, and individual salesmen accounted for over 200. "Selling at the bargain price of 10c, the Chasers will be sold out in practically no time," said Martin.

The magazine appeared on the campus yesterday for the first time this semester with an attractive drum majorette cover and many original jokes, cartoons and articles of interest to college people.

Delta Sigma Nu Sells Candy

A candy sale, sponsored by Delta Sigma Nu, will be held Thursday, October 26, it was announced by Rose Perlman, president.

Carol Pixley is in charge of the sale. Girls will be stationed about the campus, carrying trays filled with home made candy which will sell for five cents a bag.

The proceeds from this sale will be used to dress dolls for needy children.

Play Tryouts

Try-outs for "The Valiant", a one-act play used frequently in play tournaments, will be held soon, according to Wallace Twitchell, student director. Anyone in the student body is invited to participate.

All Classes Let Out on Campus Dedication Day

A chance to see the future home of San Francisco State College will be given to all students at the celebration and joint rally to take place Wednesday, Nov. 1, on the proposed Ingleside campus.

All afternoon classes will be dismissed, and buses will leave directly from the College at 12:00 to transport students to the new site. Luncheon will be served at Ingleside as the first event on the program.

Among the many prominent speakers invited to attend the gathering are Governor Olson, Dr. Walter Dexter, state director of education; Thomas Maloney, assemblyman; Mayor Rossi, Board of Supervisors and seven county superintendents from the Bay area.

A Capella choir and the State band will provide entertainment at the official ground breaking ceremonies which will be followed by a joint rally with San Francisco Junior college. The rally will be a prelude to the traditional State-J.C. game on Friday, Nov. 3. President Cloud and Dean Browne of J.C. have promised the cooperation of their student body at the rally.

P. G. Reception

A reception for the ninety-odd new post graduates attending State this year will be held in the Activity room, College hall, at 4 o'clock today.

Entertainment and refreshments will be a part of the program, announced Samuel Taormina, grad president.

Supervisors of Frederic Burk training school and a number of the State faculty including President A. C. Roberts, are invited. The first meeting of the year will introduce the many new grads from other schools.

YES, THEY'RE THIEVES!

Our Campus Kleptomaniacs . . .

The guarantee for signs staying up on the State campus has dropped to three hours. They come and they go, like ships that pass in the night. Put up a sign in the afternoon, and the next morning it's gone. Somebody must be feeding his fireplace free of charge. Worse yet . . . put up a sign in the morning, and at noon it's gone . . . apparently no one having seen it disappear.

Cal-Poly excursion signs have passed into the unknown . . . or into the fireplace. So have Chaser signs, as well as the announcements of various other organizations' activities.

Thieving of any kind on the campus is petty and intolerable. Stealing of signs is even more so. Signs can hardly be of any great use to the thief, except for a fire, and many other things would do just as well.

It takes time and money to post signs about the campus. It's discouraging to say the least for an organization to post signs which last only a very few hours. Something should be done to discourage the pilferers and remedy the situation, but it's difficult to discover a suitable course of action.

Perhaps a warning to the person or persons concerned will be enough. Stealing while in a somnambulistic state can hardly be the excuse . . . students see enough of the campus in the daytime. If a warning is not sufficient, more drastic action will be necessary, provided, of course, that the persons responsible can be caught.

Stealing signs is still a pretty low trick.

High and Low Notes

By RALPH AUF DER HEIDE

Several of the music classes took a trip to the Felix Schernstein & Sons Organ factory Monday morning and spent an hour learning the whys and wherefores of Organ building. There were four Organs set up, and the internal workings of the mammoth instruments were inspected and analyzed. Especially impressive was the vast amount of precision work involved in their manufacture. If you are interested you can purchase a neat little instrument for about 1750 or 2000 dollars.

Tuesday last, the formal initiation of the Madrigal Singers was held at the Lake Merritt Hotel in Oakland. Eight new members, Beth Payne, Constance Bastin, Marian Bryant, Carolyn Douglass, William Jackman, Robert Hayburn, John M. Ward and Ralph Pearson were initiated. Representing the Alumni were Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Lehmer, and Mrs. Veronica McElvain Starr. The evening was lightened with the performance of several original stunts, and much singing of madrigals. The whole affair was a decided success, according to George Herbert, president of the group.

Among the more interesting new record releases is the Columbia "Masterpieces of English Poetry". Edith Evans, the "Grand Dame" of the British stage reads Shakespeare sonnets, and poems by Johnson, Herrick, Blake, Wordsworth, de la Mare, Noyes, Bottomly, and many others. This is fine poetry in a really vital form. Recommend for Witt-Diamond.

The Trapp Family choir brings some charming Central European folk songs to the record listeners. Exquisitely sung in German, the voice of the people sounds particularly welcome in this time when most of the noise of this world seems to be coming from the drear stretches of politics and diplomacy.

AFTER BEATS

By SHERMAN GRANT

Bells were ringing, whistles were wailing, and uncouth river boat captains were heard hurling happy curses as the good ship Cohen chugged her way from the Annex B dock. The showboat, so they've been telling us, was a definite success: surpassing all of the other Music Federation social successes. That simply-stated fact makes the crew and the cast of the faithful old barge very happy. They realized that all the labor and setbacks that they encountered were amply repayed by the little happiness they spread.

We were asked by many the reason for not charging any admission to the affair. The answer seems heroic—it is not. It has long been the Federation's aim not only to promote solidarity within its own ranks but to bring about a greater co-ordination between the Music Department and the rest of the college. The fact that there were so many at the show who were not Music students attested to the fact that the missing link of co-operation has at last been found and welded into its place.

It is awkward that we choose to write our own critique, but in doing so we are extending our thanks to the stars and members who made the event a success. First to Bob Scott, whose voice thrilled the record crowd; a special vote of thanks. Then to Bob Wenburg, who gave freely of his time and comedy talent; we graciously extend thanks and compliments. George Archambeault, who took time off from rehearsals of "Murray Hill" gave a performance in pantomime that was greater than any we've seen. Archie is indeed a master of the difficult art. Sylvia Guthertz, Bill Garzoli, Bill Jackman, Kay Warner, the Faculty Quartet, and the Trombone Quartet, all come in for their large shares of personal and official thanks.

Tired muscles, aching heads, but relaxed nerves keynote the aftermath of the Federation's second annual picnic, held last Sunday at Roberts stadium. The organizational ability of Sid Fischer was manifested in as grand an outdoor time as your correspondent has ever had. We—ouch!—played with Spring in our hearts, even if we now feel a touch of Winter in a more fundamental part of our anatomy. Incidentally, the score at the end of the baseball game resembled very closely that of a ten-quarter football tussle.

LID-LIFTER

To all indications there appears to be something the matter with the State rooting section at its games. Maybe the fault lies with the lack of enthusiasm displayed by the rooters or maybe it's the lack of pep of our yell leaders.

With the S.F.J.C. game, which draws the biggest attendance of our games, only two weeks away, it seems to me that this situation should be immediately rectified.

Remarks heard at the games were to the effect that the yell leader was to blame for the sad state of affairs as regards to lack of support in the rooting section. A few of the remarks overheard are as follows—"Looks like Abbey is asleep again", or "The yell leader might be a good politician but he's a heck of a yell leader", another remark was "The yell leader lacks that certain punch and zip which are so vital in keeping the rooters in peppy frames of minds".

The only apparent solution, especially if we want an enthusiastic rooting section, is to recruit Bud Decker, snappiest and most colorful of all State yell leaders, to lead the State yells at our game with the San Francisco Junior College. Decker will cooperate.

CAREERS !!!

"The time has come, the walrus said, to speak of many things." Senior girls are speaking of what they will do after sixteen years of education . . . more education or career . . .

State has an excellent record in its placement of teachers, there is almost a certain job waiting for them. From January to August there have been 156 girls graduated and of that number three have returned to school for more training, nine have part time employment and only three are available.

The rest, 141 in all are teaching at schools throughout the state. Miss March in the placement office says that there has been a definite demand for girls with piano training along with regular credentials.

GIRLS TAKE TO THE AIR

Congress recently provided for the training of 10,000 student pilots, with a very small percentage of women. In Northern California the training camp is Mills College, for the ten lucky aviators, and I do mean lucky after passing the strict tests that the prospective candidates must go through. All girls interested in trying out are asked to see Dean Ward.

PUBLICITY GAG

Vogue magazine has a new publicity stunt to catch the interest; and incidentally a few subscriptions of the girls interested in fashion writing. The bait is a trip to Paris, European war conditions permitting, and a six-months job on the Vogue's staff. In return the magazine gets a lot of free publicity in college papers all over the country as well as the numerous additions to the subscription list. They're really being awfully magnanimous.

PARTIES OF THE PAST

Last night WAA had a Halloween party in the gym for all its members with all the trimmings. According to Jean Van Arsdale the evening was filled with all the old fashioned games . . . everything from dunking for apples to playing ghosts. AWS celebrates the date with a get together at Sigmund Stern Grove. Phi Lambda Chi held their rush tea last Wednesday with the customary extra specially good cake.

GIRL OF THE WEEK

One of the busiest girls on the campus these last few weeks has been petite Helen Newell, president of CSTA. During summer session Helen played hostess to people from all over the country who entered State for extra training as she was in charge of all social activities. This term she is hard at work making plans for the organization. For instance they are going to a Settlement house and down to see the Palace from six stories below ground to the roof garden. Aside from this, Helen is practicing teaching, is an active member of Newman, and president of Delta Phi Upsilon, educational fraternity. All in all this little gal really has quite a hand full, but she's said in too busy to stop a minute and chat.

Mural Work Nears Finish

Sections of the mural in the main entrance of Anderson hall have been fully completed by their designer and executor, Rubin Kadish.

The northeast section of the walls deals with the experimental sciences and pictures, Roger Bacon, Galileo, Leeuwenhoek, Pasteur and other great experimenters. To the lower right of these men are seen the monks who kept the lamp of wisdom alight during the Middle Ages. This whole section is completely worked out in blue-violet shades, while the remaining sections of wall are each to be done in a different color key. When asked about this, the artist, Mr. Kadish replied, "What a composer tries to achieve with different keys of music, I have tried to achieve with different keys of color."

On the larger wall, directly in front of one as he enters the main door, are two large bronze hands. One hand is that of a woman, the other that of a man. These symbolize womanhood and manhood and their hands the source of power. Directly below these are the incomplete figures of a man, woman and child.

On the southwest wall, which at this time is slightly hid by the artist's scaffolding, are the studies of biology and psychology. The branches of a tree, symbolizing life, are being examined by famous biologists, the roots by famous psychologists. This wall has green for its key color.

Work on the murals has been going on for some time, and at last the results are being seen and enjoyed by all who pass through the portals of Anderson hall.

DR. HARVEY INTERVIEWED

After having spent the past 11 years in the realm of bugs, Dr. Paul A. Harvey, new member of the natural science department, says that he is "happily situated here at State" and is now working in general biology, the field which interests him most.

Before coming to State, Dr. Harvey taught bacteriology at the University of California and held a research position in entomology and parasitology. He has had some of his work published on termites and other insects. He was also field biologist for the Termite Investigation committee. When asked how he came to be interested in this particular branch of science, he replied, "The job was open, and I was selected for it."

Dr. Harvey received his B.S. degree at Oregon State, his M.A. at the University of Minnesota, and his Ph.D. at California.

Realizing that many students are taking science only to fulfill the necessary requirements, Dr. Harvey is making a special effort to give his courses meaning and vitality and to adapt them to the needs of all. He said, "I want every one of my students, science major or not, to understand the significance and value of a course in biology."

As the Gater Sees It

BY ED PIERCE

There are just two more days in which San Franciscans can pull a rescue act. And there are many who can use a little help, as shown by the heavy demands on the Community Chest throughout the past year.

The quota of $2,100,000 was still lacking approximately $600,000 of it being completed last Friday, the official closing date of the drive. In order to overcome this shortage, the period of the drive has been extended to this Thursday. Yet with this extension, only an intensive drive can raise the necessary amount of money in the short space of two days. An intensive drive cannot be carried on without the full support and good will of all the people in the City and County of San Francisco.

Perhaps there is a question as to the usefulness and effectiveness of the Community Chest. Both parts of the question may be answered by surveying the type of work done by the Chest during 1938, and by considering how well it fulfilled the demands made upon it by those in need of aid.

A classical example of the tremendous difficulty involved in meeting the heavy demands of aid is shown in the case of one of the Chest agencies, a consumption clinic and nursery. In 1929 the organization received $18,000 from the Chest and had 50,000 attendances. This last year, because the Chest quota was not filled, the agency received only $16,000, yet had to handle 115,000 attendances . . . approximately seven per cent less money with which to meet double the need.

Community Chest campaign chairman John C. Neubauer states that "many employee groups in San Francisco, recognizing that the Chest has been meeting increased needs on limited budgets, have evidenced their willingness to share returning prosperity with those in want through increased pledges to the Chest."

According to the Chest bulletin, the end of the initial twelve day period showed a much better result than was achieved in last year's campaign, thereby proving that time was the only obstacle. A list of employee groups contributing to the Chest revealed a six per cent increase over last year subscriptions, and one organization surpassed the donation of the previous year by 265 per cent.

Although this presents a fairly rosy picture, a general attitude that everything has already been accomplished will be the first thing to defeat the drive. And the drive must be successful if all 85 of the various Chest organizations are to be supported, and proper care given to 100,000 needy San Franciscans during 1940.

Thursday Forum

The European war has caused a lively interest in current events, as evidenced by the large response for the Thursday World Affairs forum, which meets weekly in room 208, College hall, at 12:30.

Mrs. Olive Thompson Cowell of the social science department reviews the news of the week for the first 15 minutes. The second half of the period is left open for group discussion.

Mrs. Cowell has plans that upper division students, who major in international relations, will lead the group. It is hoped that other professors in social science will also conduct the forum.

Introducing . . .

DAVE ROHRER

A welcome addition to State's line was the turning out of tackle Dave Rohrer shortly after the season has gotten under way. This is his first year in a Gator uniform, but he is far from being inexperienced. Three seasons ago he was roaming the gridiron for Polytechnic, and ended up with all city tackle honors. He also played in the same position for the U.S.C. frosh, and was set to give all for the Trojan varsity before he changed his mind and decided to get his higher education at State.

CHARLES CHRISTENSEN

With the season half over, a number of men are still fighting it out for the first string end position. Among them is Charlie Christensen. Playing his first season for State, this 160 lb. end from Poly High has already given a couple of fine performances of wing position playing. His pass catching was responsible for fifty per cent of the yards gained against Nevada. He is another freshman on the grid squad to put down in your futures book.

Intramural Actions

By JOHN PICHOTTO

Spectators will witness a group of thrilling intramural football contests this week as the journey starts on its last lap. Today's game brings together the Parisian Hotshots and the Jellybellies, each holding a win and loss in Division A.

Tomorrow's game will be a thriller as the Newman Club tangles with the Dinosaurs, a high scoring team in Division D. Tom Beggs, George Otis, and Jack Kelly will lead the Newman squad while Parker and Wiggan will field the strong Dinosaurs.

UNDER THE REVISED SCHEDULE,

the Ryall Stars will clash with Farmer's Aggies in a game which will decide the winner of Division B. Craig Gaffney and Leo Coulson will field a strong Aggie team of Jim Changus, Neil Thornton, Phil Vail, Ted Wood, Bill Calderwood, Ellard Cook, and Hamilton Smith.

On the other side of the field will be the powerful squad of Ryall Stars made up of Walt Bridges, Herb Swanigan, Tom Keoshane, Eddie Bagnes, Bob Walker, Harold Boyd, Aldo Avidane, and John Tash.

Thursday's doubleheader will feature action galore as Sigma Pi Sigma takes on the Bears in a rematch to decide the winner of Division C. The fraternity boys lost the first match to the powerful Bears by the slim score of 3-0 and they are out to reverse the decision.

SIGMA PI SIGMA HOLDS the scoring record thus far with 79 points to their credit and four of their men grace the "Big-Ten" lineup, including the leader Jack McGann.

COACH BILL STEIN is confident of victory while the Bears, under co-captains Marshall Turner and Batis, are determined to repeat the victory with such men as Don Sullivan, Al Gorla, Isa Pivnick, Al Beseman, Naumoff, John Grantham, Victory Sariotti, Lou Savelli, Jack Lewis, Joe Sullivan, Larry Bacon, and Fred Sandrock.

The second feature of Thursday's duel will witness a clash between the leaders of Division D, Old Men's A.C. and the Indians. The Indians are out to upset the leaders and may do it with such stars as Licht, Siegrist, Carey, Dubois, Bareillas, Gerst, Grafs, Wendling, and Nelson on the team.

THREE DAY OLYMPICS

Managers and captains are requested to note the revised schedule posted on the bulletin board. The tournament will end ahead of schedule and will give time to run off a three-day football Olympics similar to the track Olympics held last spring. Kicking for distance, passing for distance and accuracy, drop-kicking and place-kicking will be among the events. Sign-up sheets will be posted soon.

Jayvees Whip Bulldogs By 12-0 Verdict

Commerce Gridders Fail To Score On Braggmen; First Team Stops Threat

By SAUL SIMON

Continuing their string of undefeated, unscored, and untied triumphs, the junior varsity gridders whipped the Commerce Bulldogs by a 12-0 verdict last Friday.

Showing a stubborn defense that did not yield a first down to the visitors until late in the last period, the Bragg-coached warriors ran hither and yon upon the cleat scarred turf of Roberts stadium.

EARLY LEAD

Despite the fact that they had a touchdown run by Archie Steinback nullified late in the opening period, the jayvees came back strong to push over a six point lead early in the second quarter.

Taking over when a Bullpup punt went out of bounds on their own 35 yard line, they started their goalward march. Alternating ball carrying between Craig Gaffney and Grant Elms carried the pigskin to the Commerce two yard marker from whence Gaffney Gaffney plunged over guard for the tally. Daryll Jasperson raced off of the bench to try for the extra point but failed.

WEBSTER INTERCEPTS PASS

An interception of a Commerce pass by Dick Webster in the last quarter was responsible for the second junior varsity score. Leaping high into the air to snag a Bulldog pass and race down the sidelines to the twelve-yard line, Webster set up the second score. A short pas from Craig Gaffney to Fred Bender placed the ball on the three. At this point Danny Ruth on a reverse swept wide around his right end to go over standing up. Again Jasperson missed the try for extra point.

It was only late in the last quarter that the Bulldogs unleashed a desperate passing attack that clicked. Completing pass after pass the Commerce lads moved the ball down to the State twenty. The first team returned to the fray to squelch the threat.

Distance Run

Kline Races Bulldogs

San Francisco State's cross country team faces the Bulldogs of Commerce High School in a race next Thursday, it was learned today from Marcus Davis, spokesman of the squad.

"We will be considerably stronger for this event," Davis stated, "as Fred Klein, our best runner, will race against the Bulldogs. He didn't run in the Lowell contest because he had to work."

"State will have seven men entered, but I don't know the number of men who will represent the Bulldogs. The cross country race is scheduled to start at 3:30."

The course, as suggested by a Commerce man, will run from the entrance of Golden Gate park on Stanyan street, to the beach. This distance covers approximately three and one-half miles.

The seven runners who will represent State in this event are Klein, Carolan, Schwab, Davis, Winchester, Wendling and Leavitt.

Win Over Publications Puts Sigmans In Tie

Lifting their season scoring total to 79, Sigma Pi Sigma rolled over a small, but fighting, Publications squad last Thursday to the tune of 39-0.

The first two scores of the game was the result of blocked punts by Alex Edelstein and Bob Anderson for two points each. Jack Fischer returned Charles Maurer's kick-off for seven more points.

TONY BACICH ADDED TWO MORE POINTS

by nabbing a Pub man behind the goal line. Vicious blocking by Bob Buckley, Bob Cumming, Ed Barry, and Joe Edelstein paved the way for the Sigma backs.

The next score came on a pass from John Finn to Jack McGann. Another touchdown followed—a pass from Don McRitchie to Bob Anderson. George Weekes entered the game, making his presence felt by scoring the last two touchdowns, one on a pass from Jack Fischer and the other on a pass interception.

FOR THE LOSERS,

Mills, Martin, Maurer, and Hutchinson looked impressive while Fred Bender stood out by intercepting two Sigma passes and returning them for considerable yardage.

The win for the frat boys placed them in a first-place tie with the Bears in Division C and the meeting between these two "power-packed" squads should be a natural this Thursday at 11:20 on the Upper Field.

DAN FARMER EXPECTS FIFTY CASABAN TEAMS

Fifty intramural basketball teams will carry out the policy of "greater participation in sports" during the winter, according to Mentor Dan Farmer.

"In addition to giving athletic participation to probably 500 students, we hope to uncover good material for the varsity. There may be a number of good players who don't know they have basketball ability," Farmer said.

Uniforms are being issued this week to the varsity, juniors and 145's. Farmer expects more than 70 men out for the three teams. Practice will point to the first game December 1 against the local Y.M.C.A. The complete season schedule will be announced within a week.

"All positions are open for competition," Coach stated. "No one man has a definite place on the team until he earns it."

Big Ten Intramural Scorers

Player	Team	Points
Jack McGann	Sigma Pi Sigma	27
Bob Russell	Old Men's A.C.	21

Lack of Reserves In Backfield Worries Boyle

Team Injuries Threaten Chances Against Cal Poly Next Saturday

Returning from the 19-0 night-mare at Humboldt with the remnants of a backfield, Coach Richard Boyle presents a tragic figure.

Injuries has crippled his team, especially the backfield. His boys received more injuries than the Marines at Belleau Woods.

When Chad Reade shoved his passing hand through the pullman window in search for air, State's chances for winning died. Reade's accident put the kibosh on Boyle's scoring threat.

TEAM HALF STRENGTH

With Dave Schiller at home with a shoulder injury, and Bud Chandler laid up with a broken blood vessel, and Guy Swannack tied up with work, Boyle's team wasn't up to snuff.

With Reade watching the game from the bench with a bandaged hand, State went down to defeat against Humboldt State. This game saw the reserves giving way to the strong Humboldt team in the first half for three touchdowns.

ROHRER, CUMMINGS STAR

Dave Rohrer and Bob Cummings, both substitute linemen, played most of the first half when the regulars failed to stop the opponents. Rohrer and Cummings will get starting roles in the Cal Poly game for their good work.

Rohrer was injured in the game, and was rushed to the hospital with slight concussion, but will be ready to play in the San Luis game. Both Johnny Verducci and Jim Lowrie were included in the heavy injury list. Verducci has an ailing ankle, and is using crutches. Lowrie has his arm in a sling, and has a possible shoulder injury.

This left the burden of the game on less experienced backs. Bill Stein received a slight ankle injury at full, and Bob Lee sustained a foot injury.

SMALL BACKFIELD

This leaves Boyle with Reno Cordoni, Mario Machi, Bill Stein, and John Holmgren in the backfield. All will see plenty of action in the next game.

Bud Chandler has been shifted to the quarterback position, and Johnny Verducci to the right half berth. With Stein at full and Reade back at left half, Boyle may have the right combination to whip the Mustangs next Saturday.

Women Stage Halloween Party

The skeletons out of the closet.

W.A.A. is giving a Halloween party, October 30, in the Gym. Badminton, ping pong, volleyball and wingo will be available. There will also be refreshments, entertainment and some surprises planned by the W.A.A. prexy. All members are invited.

Have you noticed how well the W.A.A. has been working this year? There has never been such crowds at the noon-time sports as there is this term. Champions and beginners mix to wing the bird or paddle the celluloid.

Tom Beare stated that he is a future ping pong champion and in stocking feet Pat Sullivan makes a fair badminton player.

Noon-time sports are not the only function of the W.A.A. On Wednesday nights and Saturday mornings Kappa Delta Tau the dancing society meets. Exercises in rhythm and principles of mod-

500 Portraits to Appear in Bigger Student Annual

Preparations were being rushed on the campus this week for the beginning of photography on the 1940 Franciscan on Tuesday, October 31, and Thursday, November 2.

The photographer, Walt Cameron, will be in Anderson 114 between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. He has the right to refuse to take portraits of persons not following rules set up by the staff.

Special groups to be photographed will be notified, and their pictures scheduled either as a group or by individuals.

Several new sections of portraits have been added to the dummy of the book. The editors are scheduling more than 200 individual pictures, including seniors. There will be approximately 500 portraits in the book.

B 'n' T Prepares For Chickens Ball

Winding up their preliminary preparations, Marge Furtado announced to the members of B 'n' T at their meeting last week that there were a few roles still open in the skit to be presented at the Chickens Ball.

Rehearsals will be held in the Activities Room until the first of November, the date of the dress rehearsal. "So any one interested in participating is invited to drop around," concluded Marge, chairman for the skit.

According to new plans announced by Elvira Hoenesgard, president, B 'n' T will sponsor two fashion shows a year. All members were delegated as committees of one to contact local stores, the source of the gowns used in the shows.

A committee under Barbara Magheim was pressed into service to select a new club monogram at the secretary's request.

Late Tourney Resumes Play

With the play-off of the semi-finals and finals this week, badminton will draw to a close and the ping pong tournament will begin. J. Bugg, chairman of the noon day recreation, announced today.

In the finals for men's singles, Stone will compete with either McGinn or Nyman. Stein and McGinn have qualified for the finals in men's doubles, but as yet their opponents have not been announced. Sandeen and Bugg will compete in the finals for women's doubles.

Already qualified for the semi-finals in women's singles are Bugg, Taloff and Sandeen. In the mixed doubles semi-finals are Bugg, Stein-Sourdellus, and Edelstein-Knabenshuh.

Marriage Statistics

"Every year that you girls are in college, you are lessening your chances for marriage," Dr. Alfred G. Fisk told his Psychology 1A class yesterday.

Statistics have shown that intelligent men choose for their mates less intelligent women, he said. On the other hand, the more intelligent women are inclined to want intelligent men as husbands.

Brutus Hamilton Lectures For Phi Epsilon Mu

Brutus Hamilton, track member of University of California, Benny Neff, basketball coach of Lowell High School, and Roy Prinz of Commerce High will discuss athletics at future meetings of Phi Epsilon Mu. State block "S" fraternity. It was learned today from Dave Schiller, president.

All intra-mural sports are refereed by the fraternity members as well as a track and field day to be held early in November. A "hay ride" and wienie roast featured a recent picnic at Alum Rock.

Four new pledges, Jack McGinn, Ed Castro, Ed Smith and Dick Webster, will be introduced into the fraternity Tuesday, October 31. Pledges must have a block "S", a "C" average and be interested in furthering athletics at State.

LID-LIFTERS

I am a member of the senior class. As such I have seen many funny things take place on this campus in the four years that I have been here. But to climax my career at State the funniest thing is happening on the campus this semester. The thing is, most of the Prinds give reading assignments on one hour books that have to be read in the library but when you finally snag one of the required books, one book for about 40 students, there is no seat to be had in the place to read the book. If the prinds are going to continue to give assignments of the above nature then I think that they should be held responsible for finding a solution for the overcrowded library conditions. I am far from being an uninvolved bookworm but I do realize the value of keeping up on my assignments.

Dear Lid-Lifter

Having attended four other colleges, it is only natural to make comparison. I wish to say that State is unique. There is a wholesome attitude towards life as witnessed in your students and your school relationship. There is a spirit of democracy and a sincere desire to help outsiders to be assimilated into your group. There is a friendliness, regardless of race, creed or color. I like especially your democratic dress which might almost be termed a uniform—sweater and flares. There is a conspicuous absence of snobishness and I have yet to hear a petty remark or personal criticism. It really gives a stranger here a buoyant feeling when he realizes that no one is poking fun at him or resenting his presence. Your fine spirit is a subtle reproach to any cynical attitude which a newcomer might take.

ANDRO-SPHINX DISCUSSES WAR IN GERMANY

James D. Hall Leads Conference In Weekly Meet

Andro-Sphinx men's informal discussion club will meet at the homes of the various group members every other Monday night, according to Charles Maurer, president.

"One member has a definitely scheduled subject to report on. A general discussion follows, in which every member is invited to approve or heckle as he wishes," said Marvin Harvey, former president.

The first regular meeting was held last Monday, the 16th, at the home of James D. Hall. "The War in the West" was the topic under fire. Three faculty professors and 14 regular Andro-Sphinx members attended.

After the discussion the group was served Oriental food.

Monday, October 30, is the date set for the next meeting at the home of Andro-Sphinx member Ralph Auf der Heide at which Henry Evans will discuss the "Structure of Poetry."

A.W.S. Halloween Party Scheduled For Thursday

Social calendar for the semester as announced by Ray Landreville, social chairman, at the last meeting of the Associated Women students is as follows:

Halloween Party	Oct. 26
Tea	Nov. 1
Ice Skate	Nov. 11
Thanksgiving Party	Nov. 16
Christmas Party	Dec. 14

Other business included the appointment of Bessie Haag, sophomore, as chairman of publicity for the association during 1939-40.

Marguerite Smith, president of A.W.S., wished to have the fact stressed that all women of the college automatically become members of the A.W.S. when they register. She asked that they participate in the activities and enjoy the privileges to which they are entitled.

Entertainment was provided by a song from Barbara Sullivan and by community singing which was led by Gladys Thompson and accompanied by Rae Kaplan.

Dr. Barney Expresses Pre-Nursing Club Need

"There is a large enough group of students to warrant the organization of a Pre-nursing club, but as yet nothing has been done about it," declared Dr. Edna L. Barney, medical director and professor of biological science, yesterday.

The girls who were in charge of the group last semester have dropped out of school, and pre-nursing students are sadly in need of new leaders, she said.

Anyone interested should see Dr. Barney in her office, room 101 of Anderson hall.

Orientation Classes Aid Freshmen

Guiding freshmen in their first ventures in college, is the purpose of the Orientation classes under the direction of Deans Ward and Homan. The classes give new students vocational guidance and aids in attaining their goals.

New students are time experimenting different form of teaching. They are unfamiliar with the lecture system, and without the aid of Orientation classes would be unlikely to succeed.

Among the duties the classes perform are training in efficient study, how to take notes, how to use the library to the best advantage, how to study for examinations and how to balance one's time to include everything.

New Pledges of A. P. G. Tested

Alpha Phi Gamma's new pledges, Bob Bursley, Fred Bender, William Hall and Margaret Sullivan were today undergoing the first experiences of pledgship under the guidance of Pledge captain Arthur Minness. They will become eligible for initiation on the Sunday following the Chickens Ball.

With the Kleebsche Scholarship Fund already under way as a result of the successful dance sponsored by the fraternity October 14, the chapter was busy with plans for the Chickens Ball which promises to bring the fund up to the required amount.

Social plans include a meeting at the home of Louise Vallarino and a twentieth-annualenary party at Sigmund Stern Grove.

Deans Render Counseling Service

A student counseling service under the direction of Dean Butler and Dean Homan is trying to meet the needs of all State College students.

Those who wish to consult the Deans and their assistants are urged to do so. While the primary function of the counselors is to give educational guidance, any student is free to present his problems.

In addition to the work of the General Counselors in 101, there are special counselors as follows: Art Mrs. Dixon, Music; Dr. Knuth, Mrs. Underwood, P.E. for women; Mrs. Stephenson, P.E. for men; Dean Knuth, Pre-nursing; Dr. Barney.

The Psychology department has recently taken action to encourage students to see their counselors.

Newman Club Stages Ball At St. Francis Hotel November 4

Les Smith's Orchestra Will Furnish Music; Members Sell Bids

Making his San Francisco State debut, Les Smith and his eleven piece orchestra, late of the Devonshire Country Club, will furnish the dance music for the Newman Ball on Saturday night, November 4, in the furnished Colonial room of the St. Francis hotel.

Smith was recommended by Chairman Chad Reade and his orchestra committee to members of the Newman Club at Wednesday's meeting and selected by popular vote in competition with Ernie Heckscher, Douglas Kidd and other Northern California orchestras. Smith's orchestra includes a singing guitar, a male trio and both a girl and fellow vocalist.

DANCE BIDS ON SALE

Bids to the Newman Ball are now on sale and may be purchased from any Newman member for the sum of one dollar and fifty cents.

Fifty members of the Newman Club enjoyed a free picnic and boat ride to Angel Island Sunday. Swimming, tennis, softball, dancing, and other sports were enjoyed from dawn till dusk.

A slightly smaller group were in attendance at the Newman Skating Party last Friday evening at the Golden Gate Rink. Several of the club members, including President Brummal, topped off the evening at the rip-roaring Public Address System.

Advisors Plan Parties

The Advisory Council in a recent meeting began preliminary arrangements for a party to be held in Sigmund Stern Grove, November 9, at 5 p.m. for the purpose of welcoming new State students, according to Joan Cameron, secretary.

The affair, first of the council's events of the fall season, will provide supper and entertainment for their guests.

An ice-skating party for the near future was proposed and initiated by the council.

pool, where State men will engage in a special water-polo game with the Cal Poly squad.

DANCING IN GYM

For those Staters interested in dancing, the hay-wagons will leave them in the gymnasium at 9:30, where they may dance until 5. The El Corral Rumpus Room will be open during the afternoon and early evening, where ping pong may be played and feet may be rested. Snaps and slaps rooms will be kept open until a late hour for the visitors.

A special barbecue dinner at twilight will last from 5:30 till 7, with dance music being played by the California State Polytechnic Public Address System.

Eight o'clock will mark the kick-off time for the andiron classic between the Golden Tide and the Cal Poly Mustangs. Marching exhibitions will be put on by the bands of both colleges during half-time.

POST-GAME DANCE

Immediately following the game, Staters will adjourn back to the Grandall Gym, where excursionists and Cal Polyites will wrangle in dancing until midnight. Music will be furnished by the outstanding Collegiate orchestra in Southern California, the Collegians. The dance is sponsored by the California Poly Aero Club. At 1:30 a.m. the train will leave for home.

DUCHESS DONATES!

"Every student who attends to get in on this exhilarating, exciting, chuck-full-of-entertainment trip had better get his ticket finally purchased before the Thursday," said Chairman Jimmy Fitzgerald, "all ticket sales are to be closed on that date, and we want to have no crowd of disappointed men and women because they weren't early enough in purchasing tickets and were left out. There were many such students after the Sacramento trip and as there will be room for all, we would like to see every live-wire Stater come out for this—the greatest event of the year at Cal Poly as well as for us."

Due to the generous donation of a considerable amount of money by the Duchess Sandwich Company, the band is to accompany the trip and will furnish a series of especially prepared drills for the entertainment of the Staters," said Rosemary Saum, ticket sales chairman. "The musicians will also be on hand to play for dancing in the special dance car furnished on the train."
